VISITING — the chapters

with Alumni Secretary
MARY SHAY

The summer is not even half over as I write this but when you read these lines it'll be around the first of September. That is the time of the year when we start thinking of Homecoming. That's the fun time of the school year. Everyone sets aside their problems and reverts to their school days again.

This year our Student Government has planned the usual full schedule and has labeled the product, Yesterday, Today, & Tomorrow. What they want to do, particularly in the parade, is recreate some of the flavor of the UD of Yesterday, show what it is like Today, and project into the Tomorrow. It should be interesting. They've taken on a hard task but, like you young 'uns when you were in school, the seemingly impossible is always accomplished.

It is too early to go into any more detail. Each year the alumni list for Homecoming increases. You'll be getting reservation blanks, etc., from us so please fill them out early. We're always looking to make the registration, the alumni mass, the dinner, the football game reservations, and the dance the BIGGEST EVER. Let's join the parade to Yesterday, Today & Tomorrow.

Rev. Louis Wiesner, S.M., celebrant for 40th reunion mass of the 1928ers, center. To his left is Rev. Thomas A. Clayton, C.P.P.S., co-celebrant. Seated is Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clarence Leibold.

Members of the 1928 Prep Class scooped Homecoming and held their 40th Class Reunion on Saturday, June 22. The "ARKERS" scheduled a 4:00 p.m. Mass in the Immaculate Conception Chapel. Rev. Louis Wiesner, S.M., Cleveland and Rev. Thomas Clayton, C.P.P.S., Carthegena, con-celebrated the Mass, with Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clarence Leibold, Coldwater, attending.

Following the Mass — the "ARKERS" did their traditional march — and paid their respects to the "ARK" — known to younger alumni — as the "old" R.O.T.C. Building — later the Registration Center and the Theology Building. A cocktail party and dinner followed in the Kennedy Union. A special vote of thanks to Mr. Walter Piekutowski for all his efforts in organizing this reunion which was enjoyed immensely by all those in attendance.

Aftermath of the 1942 Class Reunion was evidenced in Syracuse, New York . . . It seems that Joe McShane took some pennants back with him . . . placed them in many restaurants in the city which he frequents. Bob Butler visited with him — and was amazed at the following Joe has developed for the Flyers in that area . . . Friends of Joe's draped the pennants in black prior to N.I.T. . . . P.S. The drape was quickly removed following our N.I.T. Victory.

RABBI RUSLANDER HONORED

Rabbi Selwyn Ruslander, spiritual leader of Dayton's Temple Israel for 21 years and long-time friend of the University of Dayton, was awarded an Honorary Doctor of Humanities degree at the University's summer diploma exercises August 3 in the UD Fieldhouse.

Rabbi Ruslander was cited for his continuous service to the Dayton community, devotion to servicemen through military chaplaincy, and his leadership on many councils and committees which benefited Jew, Catholic, Protestant, Negro and the poor. His volunteer work extended to local, national and international organizations and has taken him to many parts of the world.

Among his accomplishments was the establishment of the Judaic Studies program at UD.

Gail, left, Bro. Elmer Lackner, Vice President for Public Relations; Judy, Mrs. Ruslander, The Rabbi, Father Roesch, Mrs. Rudolph Benson, Mrs. Ruslander's mother; and Rev. George Barrett, Vice President, are a happy group at luncheon.

Father Roesch leads Mrs. Ruslander and daughter, Judy, to the special luncheon for her husband.

The Rabbi poses with family. Front row, daughter Judy, grandchildren Geoffrey, Douglas and Claudia Levin. Back row, son-in-law Richard Levin, Mrs. Ruslander, Rabbi Ruslander, and daughter Gail (Mrs. Levin). Another daughter, Mrs. Tressa Miller was out of town.

Rabbi Selwyn Ruslander receives the hood signifying his honorary doctor of humanities degree from graduation marshalls. Very Rev. Raymond A. Roesch, S.M., beams approval at left.

As lunch began Rabbi Ruslander, left, was surrounded by family and friends.

Rabbi Ruslander, left, shows interest in the graduation ceremony sitting next to Dean Maurice Graney of the School of Engineering.

SAFARI TO CHILLICOTHE

By JOE McLAUGHLIN
Editor, ALUMNUS

Al Mahrt, '12, an executive who wore many hats for the Mead Corporation over 39 years, has retired in all ways but one. He has not lost his enthusiasm for the world around him. A visit to his very lovely hillside home in Chillicothe, Ohio, leaves one with the impression that Al Mahrt, despite 75 years of life, could still wear those hats in a vibrant manner.

When you sit on his comfortable sun porch, as Bro. Elmer Lackner, photographer Ed Morris, and the writer did in late June, you are face-to-face with an energetic human being who takes you to the early 1900's when he was a good student and top athlete at St. Mary's Institute (now U.D.), down through the years as he climbed the administrative ladder with Mead, and to the present where he lives the quiet life on Cedar Lane.

Center — The sun porch overlooks a beautifully manicured back lawn.

Top — A view of the Southern hills from Mr. Mahrt's porch.

Despite a keen, retentive mind for the past, it is the present which seems to interest him most. He talks of the business world today. He discusses the stock market with enthusiasm. He wants to know about the things which his alma mater and many other universities face today. He speaks of the student unrest in the colleges and universities and the social revolution around the country.

He doesn't expound on his theories. He asks questions. He is a great listener, filling in a comment here and there. He shows a great understanding of the issues of the day. He takes a vital interest in their progress.

But he speaks softly and lovingly of the old days. "I've lived a rich and blessed life," he says. "God has been good to me. I look back fondly on many friends."

Probably because of his visitors, he spoke principally of his life on the St. Mary's Institute campus and his connection with the school since that time.

"In my memory, Bro. (Ferdinand) Leimkuhler, Bro. (Adam) Hoffman, Bro. (Bernard) Shad and Bro. (William) Wohlleben were the key faculty members at the school in my day," he says. "They were wonderful to me. I remember running errands to the library for some of them and I recall that Bro. Wohlleben started the chemistry program around our time."

"When I go back to the school and look toward the NCR I envision all open field. That area is so changed today. "And," he recalls laughingly, "there were no women allowed around the campus in those days."

In answer to a question he said: "We lived at 760 S. Main Street and used to walk to school every day."

He developed his early sports talents playing on the lots around Franklin and Ludlow streets and Emmanuel Church.

He has the facility to remember names. His relations include some of the city's famous families. His mother was a Schantz; his wife, Marcie, is a Niehaus. The year he married Marcie she was named the prettiest girl in Dayton by the photographers club. This was in 1921.

He played ball with Hugh and Norb Sacksteder, Al Schumacher, Ralph Baker and George (Babe) Zimmerman among others. Father O'Maley and Harry Solimano were two of his coaches at St. Mary's. Both Mahrt and Solimano are charter members of the University of Dayton Athletic Hall of Fame. He was the quarterback in football and one of the first passers in the history of the game. He played with and against the great Jim Thorpe in professional ball. He was a guard in basketball and a catcher in baseball. He was on undefeated St. Mary's football and basketball teams. One of the basketball teams defeated the old Buffalo Germans for the "World championship."

He didn't mention it but he once caught Jesse Haines, later a fine major league pitcher.

"We used to play football after college with the old Dayton Triangles at Triangle Park where the baseball field is now located," Mahrt reminisces. "I played baseball at old Sucher Field on the West Side. One of those teams was the Lily Brews."

In later years, a fan once remarked that "Al Mahrt and Sammy Baugh (former Washington Redskin great) were the best passers I ever saw."

His friends will tell you he had a fine sense of responsibility, a great fervor and capacity for detail. Apparently these attributes stood him in good stead as he climbed the administrative ladder in the business world. As mentioned earlier he wore many hats at the Mead Corporation from 1928 until 1967. He was an accountant by trade and it was his capacity for detail and financial wizardry which helped the Mead Corporation become the giant it is today.

As Mead grew, Mahrt would assume positions of treasurer, or president, or a director of a new subsidiary. He was always a key planner in the absorption of divisions. When Al joined the Mead group its sales were around $1 million. In 1966, they had grown to $620 million.

Upon his retirement on March 28, 1967, Mr. H. E. Whitaker, Board Chairman of Mead, said in part: "We will remember Al Mahrt as a superb athlete and one of the builders in Mead history . . . No man ever possessed more drive, honesty and integrity than Al and he became the very symbol of Mead's 'brown paper mills,' one of which now bears his name . . ."

Al had come a long way since the early 1920's when the Dayton Daily News editorialized: "He is quiet and gentle . . . clean in his habits of life and in his thinking. He is considerate of other people's rights at all times . . ."

The Mahrt Mill in Mahrt, Alabama, among other things is a tribute to this U.D. grad.

ROAD TO SUCCESS...

Lorenzo Harris, '51, is a man with a head for business and his know-how has led him to success. He is the owner of a thriving food market in Dayton and is planning to expand his operation by opening another store this month. Harris, who is a 1951 graduate of the School of Business Administration, opened his first store 14 years ago. He had seven years of supermarket experience behind him, but was unable to get the modest loan he needed to establish his business. Then he got his first break. The Negro couple who owned the building in which he hoped to open his market, sold the building to him without a down payment and advanced him a $2,000 loan to work with. Added to this was $600 he had raised on the sale of his car, and with this money he stocked the store and opened for business early in 1954. He has come a long way since this "shoestring" beginning.

His store, known as Ren's Market, was moved from its original location to its present site at 1233 Danner Avenue on Dayton's West Side in 1959. His brother now owns a store in the building Harris bought for his first venture in the grocery business. Since moving to his present location, Harris has enlarged the area of the store twice. Last fall, a $50,000 fire gutted the store and in the process of preparing for reopening, Harris made more improvements in the store facilities. Now the modern market is back in full operation and its owner is busily preparing his second store for opening. His success in business has grown financially from the $30,000 he grossed his first year to the $500,000 gross the store brought in last year.

Harris has been active in the Urban League and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). He is also interested in the Greater West Dayton Business Association, Inc., an organization that seeks to improve present businesses and encourage new business in the West Dayton area.

"AN AVALANCHE!"

Robert Bruggeman, '51, and his wife, Jamie, were the top story in the Dayton Journal Herald on July 16 after Jamie had given birth to triplets — three little girls — born the day before. As Bob put it: "Did you ever hear of an avalanche?"

The girls, who doubled the family since there are two boys and another girl, were named Roberta Marie (five pounds), Jennifer Eileen (five pounds, five ounces), and the littlest, Mary Geralyn (four pounds, eight ounces).

It worked out well since daughter, Cathy Ann, obviously tired of two brothers, had already put in an order for "a sister." Of course, Daddy Bob always does things in a big way so she's got three sisters.

Bob didn't even cringe when he was reminded that it only means more diapers and eventually he'll have to pay for three weddings. As he told the Journal Herald: "Life is going to be an adventure at our house."

Bob, who is a French teacher at Fairview High School in Dayton, had been indirectly honored when one of his students, Pam Needham, placed first in the nation in a four-year French competition sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French.

Pam told the news media: "I owe everything to my French teacher. He's the only French teacher I've had."

NO BARRIER...

Earning a doctorate in chemical engineering is no small chore, but Arthur R. Peck, '59, attained this goal despite total blindness. At commencement exercises on June 13, he was awarded his Ph.D. from the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn where he received his M.S. in 1962.

This year also marked another first for Dr. Peck in accepting the gift of a seeing eye dog. He has been living in Brooklyn since his U.D. graduation and had been able to get around his neighborhood until the last several months. Five muggings led him to acquire the seeing eye dog, a female Collie-Shepherd guide dog, Yash.

Dr. Peck, whose blindness has developed over a period of 20 years, was in the Merchant Marine during World War II. The 40-year-old veteran lost his sight gradually as a result of two fires on merchant ships during the war. While studying at U.D., he could only see under very strong light and with extra-thick glasses.

The new Ph.D. accomplished his classroom and lab work at P.I.B. in seminars and special conferences. He also used his apartment as a classroom and received help from volunteer students and tape recordings. Much of his research work was brought to him by students who also typed his 120-page thesis, "An Analytical Approach to the Startup and Shutdown of Processes."

Dr. Peck, with guide dog Yash, turns in his doctoral thesis to Professor Irving Miller at the Polytechnic's Computer Center.

In speaking of the future, Dr. Peck displays the determination and optimism he has shown during his collegiate studies. "I know my opportunities might be limited," he says, "but being blind isn't that much of a nuisance."

RED & BLUE SHOULD FINISH "IN BLACK"

By GENE SCHILL
Sports Information Director

The lifeline of the University of Dayton football success over the last two seasons has been a strong halfback offense. Take your pick — a speedy little scatback or a bruising power runner — Coach John McVay has had both and he never hesitated using them. The fleet-footed Billy Mayo would run around and away from you and Mel Taylor, Bob Madden and Bernie Kress would run over you. You never knew which it would be but you knew it was coming. The only problem opponents had was trying to stop them. In 1966 the opponents weren't having much success at all and the Flyers racked up an 8-2 season losing only to Bowling Green and Miami of Ohio. Last season the Flyers strengthened their schedule and still finished 6-3-1 with Bowling Green, Louisville and Toledo handing out the defeats.

There isn't any reason to feel that McVay will change his tactics this year especially since he has two fine runners returning at the halfback outposts along with the rest of his backfield from last year. Bob Madden and Bernie Kress, both native Buckeyes, will be carrying the majority of the burden from their halfback spots and they have proven in the past that they are extremely capable of getting the job done.

Madden has been a starter for the Flyers during the past two seasons and has racked up enough yardage to have a real honest shot at the U.D. all-time ground-gaining record. To date, he has pounded enemy lines for 968 yards and needs 603 more for the record. That total 603 would be under his sophomore output of 633 yards, but would still add some joy to the coaches lives.

Kress started slow as a sophomore, not because the ability wasn't there but because there were more experienced personnel ahead of him. He did indicate during his spot appearances that he would be hard to contain the following year and how right that was. Last season, as a junior, Bernie ran through opponents for 512 yards and a 4.6 yard average. He showed the strength of a fullback, but the moves of a fine open field runner. He led the team in touchdowns with seven and seemed to get stronger as the year wore on.

With Madden at 5'10", 185 lbs. and Kress at 6', 195 lbs. the Flyers have the rugged, experienced halfback corps to make McVay's run-oriented offense move and move well.

As mentioned before the remainder of the backfield will return and it's the job of backfield coach Tom Moore to fit all the pieces together. The fact that all the starters are experienced veterans makes that job a bit more enjoyable for Moore. Jerry Biebuyck will lead that offense for the third consecutive year from his quarterback spot. He has fought off "all comers" and has proved to be an excellent field general and a fine clutch passer, both long and short.

Over that two year period Biebuyck has completed 99 passes for 1490 yards and 10 touchdowns. His effectiveness in throwing the "Bomb" has kept opponents playing a loose secondary which has allowed the running game to click. His chief receiver from last year (speedy Billy Mayo) is gone, but Jerry will have a fine selection of receivers to throw to anytime the occasion arises.

Along with Kress and Madden he'll have as targets: ends Bill Tant (8 receptions for 117 yards in 1967), Dennis Sidebottom (8 for 90 yards) and fullback Mike Wilson.

Wilson has been used primarily as a blocking back and his size, 6'2", 230 lbs. makes him an excellent pathfinder. He is a vicious blocker who generally is credited with two blocks on play after play. His size also makes him a devastating short yardage runner. He has exceptional agility for a big man which allows him to go either inside or outside.

The offensive line has lettermen Jim Stangle (tackle), Tom Kavanaugh (center), and ends Tant and Sidebottom. The defensive line has lettermen Jim Place and Jim Rudzinski at ends, Lou Galiardi and George Kohl at tackles, and Denny Graf and Joe Tyler as linebackers. George Ferlic will take over for the graduated Barry Profato at middle guard.

The only veteran defensive back returning is Don Ragon 6'2", 200 lbs., but Ragon is a great one. He has the size, speed and desire to fit his role and the intelligence to make him one of the most respected secondary men in the midwest. Ragon will be joined in the defensive backfield by Al Shatteen, Mike Nelson and Tony Wittbrodt.

The top sophomores include quarterback John Haynes, guards Mark Ellison and Rich Weigand, defensive end Dan Quinn, halfback Terry Miller and defensive back Albert Brown.

McVay has made no promises of things to come. John McVay and his staff have given the faithful two big winning years in a row and they know that if it can be done again they will do it. Chances are they're right and the Red & Blue should finish "in the black" again in 1968.

BLENDING TALENTS

Heather Jenkins Morgan, '58 handles three full-time jobs. She is the wife of Sam Morgan, sales representative for a Dayton printing firm, mother of a lively ten month old son Russell William, and to her many patients in the Dayton area, she is Dr. Morgan. All three roles bundled into one small package typify the life of this U.D. grad.

Having a doctor in the family was nothing new for the Jenkins family. Heather's grandfather was a country doctor, her father was a Ph.D. research chemist and director of research at Monsanto Chemical Co., and both of her brothers are doctors — one an osteopath and the other a chemist. Heather was a biology major who after graduation went on to Ohio State University Medical School. Then she served as attending physician in the emergency ward at Miami Valley Hospital. It was during this time that Sam Morgan convinced her that a woman doctor needn't be a confirmed "bachelorette," so the two were married. Little Russell made the family a threesome last year and shortly after, Heather started a medical practice of her own.

A general practice is just what Dr. Morgan wants. She enjoys having patients of all ages, children through grandfathers. Her patients seem to be considerate of the fact that she does have a family, so when they call her at home, she knows it must be important.

Even though home is only several blocks from her office, Heather misses her son while she's caring for patients. She's looking forward to the day when a bigger office will allow her to have a baby sitter with Russell right in a room at the office. Then she can keep an eye on him first-hand.

Equally at home wearing a brightly colored coat as she administers to her patients or in the Morgan house caring for her family, Heather performs her job — all of her jobs — well.

Dr. Morgan

APOLOGIES

We finally did it. One of our graduation pictures in the June ALUMNUS was incorrectly identified so we'd like to set the record straight. Above left is a picture of Barbara Polito, of Rochester, New York, who graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in political science. Gungor Tokcan of Ankara, Turkey, who was identified in the cutlines under Barbara's picture, posed for us in the Physics Department where she is working for the summer. She was awarded a Master of Science degree in Physics at the April graduation and returned to Turkey this summer.

Doctor Carroll A. Hochwalt, St. Louis business and civic leader and former vice president for research of Monsanto Chemical Corporation, has been reelected to the Board of Trustees of The Catholic University of America. Since April, 1966, Doctor Hochwalt has headed the Survey and Objectives Committee of the CUA Board.

1922

D. Herbert Abel, Ph. D., has retired as professor at Loyola University of Chicago and is living in Miami, Florida, and teaching at Barry College.

1926

Jack R. Brown, Finance Director of Athletics since 1960, has retired from that post but is staying with the department on a part-time basis with the title of Ticket Manager. Jack, former UD gridiron star, has spearheaded all Flyer football ticket campaigns since '60 and has watched the number of season tickets grow to an all-time high of 4694 in 1967. It is generally agreed that Jack's dedication to the program has made that growth possible. He is also serving in an advisory capacity and is concerned primarily with the public relations aspects of the ticket office.

1929

Brother William D. Busch, S.M., has retired from his position as UD treasurer, a spot he has held for eighteen years but is remaining as a consultant to the new treasurer. Brother has been a member of the S.M.'s for forty-two years. He was succeeded by Joseph M. Garcia '52.

1930

BROTHER FRANK J. SPRINGMANN, S.M.

Bro. Frank J. Springmann, S.M., was featured in Jack Butler's column, World of Sports, in May. Here are some quotes from it:

"Brother has been a Marianist for some forty years and many of those years have been spent serving the boys of St. John's Home in Rockaway Park, N.Y. He has been teacher, principal of the school, athletic coach and director of the Home at one time or other. Brother recently accepted the suggestion he retire but he isn't the rocking-chair type. So he asked if he might help boys. He looked around and found that a group of boys at St. Camillus, the local parish, wanted to play baseball. An able coach, having developed several championship teams at St. John's, he helped get the team off the ground. Then during the winter months he coached both the grammar school boys and the Home boys in basketball. When his two teams clashed on the hardwood, the twin-team coach learned how to doubletalk. He had to console the losers and praise the winners. A sports committee was formed at St. Camillus. There are now 250 boys entered and some fifty parents working behind the scenes. The 'stadium' complete with umpires, coaches and managers had fourteen teams ready for play on opening day.

This spy can report to Brother Frank's superior that he is resting. When he is pitching to a batter he is only limbering up his arm. That cane he carries is just for pointing and moving a fielder into position. When he accompanies a few dozen kids on the piano he is just relaxing. When he's in the midst of a bunch of happy boys he's not working — he's telling wonderful boy stories. For the record he's retired — but actually he still is busy bringing happiness and love to youngsters. But what else could anyone expect from Brother Frank? He is and always has been a giver. And best of all — the guy is contagious. God bless him and a million thanks to him and for him."

When "Old" Friends Meet

Fred Aicher, '30, and Vincent Trunk, '26, relived 35 years in one recent week in July. The "old" friends from St. John's in Brooklyn saw one another for the first time since 1942 and the ALUMNUS can take credit for the Dayton visit of Mr. Trunk.

The classnotes of the November issue, mentioned that Fred was confined to his home and would like to hear from old friends. Vinnie, who is a widower since 1963 and retired from the Newark, New Jersey, school system, read the article and contacted Fred. Through the mail they planned a summer visit.

Vinnie was here during the first week of July and the two men, who taught together from 1932 to 1942, went back over "35 years," according to Fred.

Both men are Brooklyn boys and first met when they were teaching at St. John's. Fred and Sylvia, and Vinnie and Vera were good friends during those years. The two men were separated when Fred joined the NLRB in Atlanta, Georgia, in 1942.

Vinnie was on campus to see old friends, Rev. Andrew Seebold, Bro. Bill Bellmer, and Bro. Thomas Poitras, among others. Both Fred and Vinnie agree that this is one of the happiest weeks they've spent in many years.

Cleveland has always been a fine student recruiting area for the University of Dayton since before the turn of the century. Many a youngster came down from that Lake Erie city and in time became an "old boy," ancient term for a graduate.

As time passed and the University discovered women, the young ladies came to U.D. to change the complexion of the campus. Many a Cleveland lass was a part of the migration.

Athletes hopped a train and gained glory at U.D., particularly under Harry Baujan. Many of Harry's teams ventured north to play football and basketball. Some U.D. athletes returned to the northern Ohio city to take on coaching responsibilities.

It is this latter group which keeps the University of Dayton's name in the forefront of athletics in Cleveland. No less than 13 men are currently returning honor and glory to their alma mater through coaching. It isn't necessarily the wins and losses which count, it is the devotion these men show to youth which brings honor to the University.

Some of these men like John Wirtz, '38; Bill Gutbrod, '50; Vern Weber, '54; Don Lane, '58; Steve Palenchar, '60; and Dave Sterlekar, '64 had outstanding athletic careers at the University.

Others played little or no athletics on the southwestern Ohio campus. Yet they are turning in excellent coaching credentials. These include Ed Yemec, '55; Joe Paul, '58; Bill Riccio, '58; Marlo Termini, '52; John Storey, '63; Tom Crowe, '51; and Jack Busher, '64.

Wirtz apparently is the dean of UD's coaching alumni in the area. He began his coaching career in Columbus but it was temporarily stopped by service in the U.S. Air Force in World War II. He resumed at Columbus St. Mary's in 1946 and then moved to St. Ignatius in 1948. During his St. Mary's tenure he won 29, lost eight and tied three football games. His basketball teams won 58 and lost 27.

His coaching success at St. Ignatius has included many titles. He shows 122 victories, 35 losses, five ties, 10 league and three city championships in football. His basketball teams have achieved 264 wins and lost 82. During this time he has corralled eight league, one city, six sectional, two district and two regional titles. His baseball teams have won 49 and lost 19 and taken two city crowns. In all his coaching career shows 151-43-8 in football, and 322-109 in basketball.

He has been a coach with the Northern All-Stars in Canton two years, named Cuyahoga County Coach of the Year in football in 1963 and in basketball in 1959. He was West Senate Football Coach of the Year in 1960, 1962, and 1963, and in basketball in 1963, 1964 and 1967. He was married in Liverpool, England, in 1946 to Joan Smith. The couple has three daughters.

Writing last October in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, Chuck Webster revealed that Bill Gutbrod's St. Joseph's football teams of the last 10 years have the best winning percentage in the northeast section of Ohio. The Vikings have a 74-18-5 record for an 80 winning percentage. There are 116 teams in the area.

Bill's overall record at St. Joseph's is 108-38-8 with the Crown Conference title coming in 1967.

Honors to the 1949 UD football captain have included Coach of the Year in Greater Cleveland for 1966, Head Coach of the North All-Stars in Canton in 1967, Head Coach of County All-Stars in 1959, a member of the Board of Directors of the Ohio Football Coaches Association and 1966-67 President of the Greater Cleveland Football Coaches Association.

Married to the former Jean Warman, a 1948 U.D. grad, the couple has seven children.

Vern spent time in the service in Korea where he coached and then a year at Chaminade in 1957. The Eagles were city champs. His 3-11-2 record in 1958 and 1959 was not an auspicious start at Gilmour Academy, but once his system was installed, Vern and his Academy men took off on a winning binge which has produced 60 victories, 11 losses and two ties since 1960. His '60 club was co-champion of the North Central Conference and the 1964 team titlist of the Lake Shore League. The school is now independent. The 1963 and 1964 clubs were both undefeated with 9-0 records.

A 12-letter winner at Solon High School, Vern was a top fullback and linebacker at U.D. under the late Joe Gavin, 1951-53. He is married to the former Beverly Jo Nieman, a 1955 U.D. graduate. They have five youngsters.

Don Lane was a co-captain of the 1957-58 NIT finalist which represented a peak period in Tom Blackburn's 17-year tenure as U.D. basketball coach. Since his graduation coaching has been his love.

His first stint was a one-year introduction at Mansfield St. Peter's High. He moved from there to Lima Central Catholic and had a creditable 59-43 five-year record which included sectional titles in two seasons. He moved to Cuyahoga Falls in 1964 and spent two years as an assistant coach. The last two seasons he has been the head man and has engineered an overall 39-8 record. He was the district winner and regional runner-up in the 1966-67 campaign.

His latest honors have been 1966-67 Coach of the Year in Summit County and 1967-68 Coach of the Year in Northeast Ohio. Two others shared the latter honor.

Don is married to Joyce Hagans, also a '58 graduate. They have five young ones.

Steve Palenchar has just moved from a seven-year stint as assistant to Vern Weber at Gilmour to the line coaching job at Valley Forge High School in Parma. One of the finest blocking guards and linebackers in U.D. history, Steve spent one year, 1960-61, at his alma mater, Benedictine, when the team was 8-3. The seven seasons at Gilmour produced a 54-9-2 record and the two aforementioned unbeaten elevens. Steve is the only bachelor in the group. His only loves, we think, are coaching, teaching and traveling around the country — not necessarily in that order.

Dave Sterlekar was one of those so-called "too little" guys for major college football. Yet he was as fine a guard and linebacker as a coach could want at U.D. Since 1964 graduation he has served as assistant football and head wrestling coach at Padua High in Parma and as assistant in both sports at Euclid. He spent the past year at Euclid. His three-year wrestling record at Padua was 18-15, taking first and second in the Padua Invitational Wrestling Tournament and organizing the Greater Cleveland Wrestling Clinic.

Dave is married to the former Marlene Oberstar. They have three children.

Marlo Termini, since his 1952 graduation, has divided his time between coaching, teaching and recreational work in Cleveland and California. He has had two stints in the Far West state. He has coached football, basketball, baseball, been an athletic director, an intramural director, teacher and member of the Catholic School Board in Cleveland.

His basketball head coaching record in seven seasons has produced a 71-56 record at Holy Name, Benedictine and Walsh Jesuit, where he is currently coaching. He won the West Senate championship at Holy Name in 1956 and was the sectional champion twice with the same school.

Marlo is married to the former Rose Mary Scaglione and they have two children.

Tom Crowe never played athletics at U.D. but he has always been a winner as a coach. He has just come off a 19-2 basketball season at Eastlake North High and his nine-year mark at the school is 125-58. He shared the Greater Cleveland Conference title in 1962 and 1963.

He also has coached at Dellroy High and Massillon Washington High. Mrs. Crowe is the former Evelyn Van Voorhis and there are eight youngsters in the Crowe household.

Joe Paul spent most of his athletic career at U.D. on the baseball diamond. He lettered three years. This, however, hasn't curtailed his coaching talents. He's been successful at the football and basketball reins in three schools.

While at Piqua Catholic as backfield coach the team was 7-2. He also handled the freshman team which was 7-1. His combined basketball coaching chores as jayvee and junior high tutor brought a 53-3 mark. During his five-year coaching tenure, both as assistant and head coach, at Ursuline High the football team had a 35-10-1 record, basketball showed a 32-22 mark and tennis was 43-7. His four years as head football coach at St. Edward's High has produced 23 victories, 16 defeats and one tie. He served one year as head basketball coach and had a 23-2, best in the school's history. He had a city basketball and three tennis championships at Ursuline. His 1967 football team at St. Edward's tied for the Crown Conference title.

Joe coached U.D.'s All-American basketball, Don May, when he was a grammar school football and basketball player at Holy Angels in Dayton. Joe was married this June to Sandra Kremblas of Akron.

Ed Yemec has been an assistant at Warrensville Heights High School for three years.
